FENDER FLARE FITMENT INFO

- Speciality applications such as "Stepside," "Flareside," or dual rear wheel "Dually" trucks are generally not compatible unless otherwise noted.
- Bushwacker Fender Flares are available as front pair, rear pair, or complete set of four depending on application part number and availability.
- Tire coverage is uniformly measured from the top dead center of the wheel well sheet metal.
- Bed size dimensions are measured from the inside front edge of the tailgate to the inside back edge of the truck box. The measurements that are provided are standardized by the Automotive Aftermarket Industry Association.
- Some paint wear lines from previously installed fender flares may not be covered by Bushwacker Fender Flares. Buffing or re-painting the worn area may be required to restore your paint to a factory finish.
- We've ranked Installation Difficulty from 1-easy to 3-difficult, incorporating tools, knowledge, and time required to install our products.

INSTALLATION TIPS

- Installation can require a wide range of modification to a vehicle for correct fitment. Be sure to read the instruction guide before ordering or installing.
- As with all products that touch the painted surface of a vehicle, vibration may create wear lines in the paint surface. Be sure to secure your fender flares tightly, as indicated in the instruction guide.
- Always perform a fitment check before painting fender flares.

PAINT CODE MATCHING PROGRAM

Bushwacker Color-Matching Fender Flares come from our factory wearing a high-quality OEM finish to match the paint on many new trucks and SUVs. That means no more sending flares out to be painted, saving time and money. These flares have the rubber edge trim and stainless steel bolts pre-installed allowing for quick and easy installation. Color-Matching Fender Flares carry a limited lifetime warranty on materials and workmanship and a three-year warranty on the finish.
